Drug Information Sheet("Kusuri-no-Shiori")

Injection Published: 12/2021

 details may vary by country. Medicines have adverse reactions (risks) as well as efficacies (benefits). It is important to minimize adverse reactions and maximize efficacy. To obtain a better therapeutic response, patients should understand their medication and cooperate with the treatment. Brand name: Aclacionon 20mg for Injection Active ingredient: Aclarubicin hydrochloride Dosage formtinjection imprint or print on wrapping: Effects of this medicine This medicine potently inhibits RNA synthesis by binding with DNA in cancer cells to suppress cancer cell proliferation. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Osoing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant hymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine castor approx of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. Procautions while taking this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. (2) In general, inject this medicine function tests frequently. Keep all aboratory test schedules. Procautions while taking this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Procautions while taking this medicine intravenously or by in	Published: 12/2021
 mportant to minimize adverse reactions and maximize efficacy. To obtain a better therapeutic response, patients should understand their medication and cooperate with the treatment. Brand name: Aclacinon 20mg for Injection Active ingredient: Aclarubicin hydrochloride Dosage forminjection imprint or print on wrapping: Effects of this medicine potently inhibits RNA synthesis by binding with DNA in cancer cells to suppress cancer cell proliferation. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine. Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you are or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are vince of this medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicines.) Dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant hymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine exestation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For caucle eukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Precautions while taking this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the docto	The information on this sheet is based on approvals granted by the Japanese regulatory authority. Approval patients should understand their medication and cooperate with the treatment. Brand name: Aclacionon 20mg for Injection Active ingredient: Aclarubicin hydrochloride Dosage formtinjection Imprint or print on wrapping: Effects of this medicine This medicine potently inhibits RNA synthesis by binding with DNA in cancer cells to suppress cancer cell proliferation. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. It following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine. Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Vour dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant tymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute Leukemia: In general, inject this medicine The medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Poselile adverse reactions to this medicine, If any of these symptoms occur, consult Brand name: Aclacinon 20mg for Injection Active ingredient: Aclarubicin hydrochloride Dosage forminjection Imprint or print on wrapping: Effects of this medicine This medicine potently inhibits RNA synthesis by binding with DNA in cancer cells to suppress cancer cell proliferation. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukomia. The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine. Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you are very or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are very or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are yor have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are very of ever-the-counter medicines and distary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant hymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ak the doctor about the treatment span. Procautions while taking this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possibl Active ingredient: Aclarubicin hydrochloride Dosage form:injection Imprint or print on wrapping: Imprint or print on wrapping: Effects of this medicine proliferation. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine.Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. • If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. • If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Ossing schedule (How take this medicine) • Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) • For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. Evacute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. • Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine Preautions while taking this medicine underice
Dosage form:injection Imprint or print on wrapping: Image: Content of the image: Contend of the image: Content of the image: Content of	Brand name: Aclacinon 20mg for Injection	- Mary-
Imprint or print on wrapping:	Active ingredient: Aclarubicin hydrochloride
Imprint or print on wrapping:		Sec. 2
Effects of this medicine This medicine potently inhibits RNA synthesis by binding with DNA in cancer cells to suppress cancer cell proliferation. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine. Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. •Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine •This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine •The sond commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia,	-	All the art
This medicine potently inhibits RNA synthesis by binding with DNA in cancer cells to suppress cancer cell proliferation. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine. Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are pregnant or breastfieding. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Vour dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) • For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia : In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. • Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine • This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine • The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets, If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor memia proliferation. It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine.Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. • If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. • If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. • If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicic) • Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) • For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemiz: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. • Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine • This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine . • The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malignant lymphoma and acute leukemia. The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine.Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you are or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, hiject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms descr	This medicine potently inhibits RNA synthesis by binding with DNA in cancer cells to supp	press cancer cell leukemia. The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine. Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. • If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. • If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. • If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicineal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) • Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) • For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to	proliferation.
 The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine.Be sure to tell your doctor and pharmacist. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine infany of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine infany of these symptoms occur, stop taking t	It is usually used to treat gastric cancer, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, malig	gnant lymphoma and acute pharmacist. If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2. (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immedi	leukemia.
 If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods. If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine • This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor or inarmacist. The eadove stop in duil [myoc	The following patients may need to be careful when using this medicine.Be sure t	to tell your doctor and If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function. If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) • Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) • For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. • Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine • This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. • edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] • anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions	pharmacist.
 If you are pregnant or breastfeeding. If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms	•If you have previously experienced any allergic reactions (itching, rash, etc.) to any medicines or foods.
 • If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance or diminish medicinal effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) • Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) • For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. • Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine • This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine • The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. • edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] • anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] 	If you have or have a history of abnormal cardiac function.
effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) •Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional))) •For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. •Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine •This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The somptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.	• If you are pregnant or breastfeeding.
effects. Beware of over-the-counter medicines and dietary supplements as well as other prescription medicines.) Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) •Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional))) •For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. •Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine •This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The somptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.	• If you are taking any other medicinal products. (Some medicines may interact to enhance	e or diminish medicinal Dosing schedule (How to take this medicine) Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine. The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. • edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] • anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 Your dosing schedule prescribed by your doctor is((to be written by a healthcare professional)) For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The adverse reactions to this medicine? The adverse reactions do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 For solid cancer and malignant lymphoma: (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.		healthcare professional))
 (1) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion twice a week, either on days 1 and 2 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above. 		1 //
 (two consecutive days) or on days 1 and 4. (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above. 		either on days 1 and 2
 (2) In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for seven consecutive days followed by a medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above. 		, other on days I and 2
 medicine cessation period of seven days. This is counted as 1 course, and the course is repeated. For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above. 		ocutivo davs followod by a
 For acute leukemia: In general, inject this medicine intravenously or by intravenous infusion for 10 to 15 consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above. consecutive days. Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 Ask the doctor about the treatment span. Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 Precautions while taking this medicine This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above. 	•
 This medicine may cause serious adverse reactions such as marrow depression and myocardial disorder. You may undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laboratory test schedules. Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.	-
 Possible adverse reactions to this medicine The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above. 	undergo blood test and liver/kidney/cardiac function tests frequently. Keep all laborator	bry test schedules.
The most commonly reported adverse reactions include myelosuppression, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, general malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] anemic symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 malaise, alopecia, diarrhea and gastrointestinal bleeding. If any of these symptoms occur, consult with your doctor or pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 pharmacist. The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
The symptoms described below are rarely seen as initial symptoms of the adverse reactions indicated in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.		onsult with your doctor or in brackets. If any of these symptoms occur, stop taking this medicine and see your doctor immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 immediately. •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
 •edema, chest pain, dull [myocardial disorder, cardiac failure] •anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above. 		our doctor
•anemic symptoms, fever, bleeding tendency [myelosuppression such as pancytopenia] The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.	-
The above symptoms do not describe all the adverse reactions to this medicine. Consult with your doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.
doctor or pharmacist if you notice any symptoms of concern other than those listed above.		0
Norage conditions and other information	Storage conditions and other information otorage continuons and other information
For healthears professional use only	For healthcare professional use only roi nealthcare professional use only / /	For healthcare professional use only / /

For further information, talk to your doctor or pharmacist.